J V DAY

FRESHMAN BEWARE

SOPHS PLAN BIG FIELD DAY

The Sophomore Class has undertaken to bring to U. T. J. C. a traditional holiday that will be remembered and followed until human beings begin inheriting so much knowledge that colleges are unnecessary. (Will it ever be??)

Along with the sponsors, Mr. Jones (better known as "Little Jones") and Mr. H. B. Smith, the Sophomores have cooked up some interesting events for this day.

First of all they have decided to call the day "Junior Vol Day." Next, they've decided upon a program that will involve all members of the school. Yes, faculty included.

The program for the afternoon will start at four p. m. and run until 6 p. m. (Don't you think it would be a shame to have classes?)

Starting off will be relay races and dashes for both the boys and girls. Next, there will be a foot race by the faculty members followed by a beauty contest to elect the modern Appolo and Venus of U. T. J. C. Each club will elect their representatives for this contest. The last and probably (without a doubt) the most important event for the Freshmen will be a pole climbing event to see if they wear their Freshman caps the rest of the quarter. These caps will be available at the Book Store before J. V. Day.

Each club will have a booth or stand and will be expected to decorate it with a slogan pertaining to the game that night. There will be a prize for the club accumulating the most points. Points will be given in each contest including the boots. During the half that night at the ball game a traditional key will be given to the winning club.

The Sophomore class feels that not only will "J. V. Day" be a good time for all to become better acquainted but a day to be remembered by alumni.

Let's all cooperate in making "J. V. Day" a great event to be looked forward to and remembered.

Plans have already been made for the annual Sophomore dance. Billy Crossway and his orchestra who hails from Murray State, will furnish the music. This will be a formal dance and everyone is invited.

G. I. Reports

The weather man decided we could not have the hayride last Saturday night, but girls (and wives), don't let that dampen your spirits. Just wait until December 5, the date our Strata Club dinner dance will be held. According to the plans, it will be an evening of food, fun, and entertainment—one of the highlights of the UTJC social calendar!

ARMISTICE DAY

Freshman Harvest Festival Will Be Given Friday Night

The Freshman Class is sponsoring a Harvest Carnival in the gym November 14. The carnival will begin at 7:30 and last until 9:30. Participants in the Carnival may then dance until 11:45.

The carnival will have all sorts of booths and a "House of Horror." Prices for a chance at the booths run from 2c to 15c.

The thirty cents admission at the door gives each person a ticket for the raffle and the privilege of dancing after the carnival is over.

The four freshman officers, Neil Smith, Mark Fairles, Betty McNeil, and Pat Daws, with the sponsors, Miss Koontz and Miss Cleveland, are acting as an executive committee.

The other committees are: Publicity, Joe Fuller, Talton Turner, John Alexander, Joy Kerby, Camille George; Decoration, Edwina Porter, Wilma Logan, Jane Jordan, Gwen Cherry, Joy Kerby; Harvest Queen Booth, Sue Baldridge, Sally Campbell; Wishing Well, Maxine Jenkins; Fortune Telling, Sally Campbell, Jo Alice Gleason; Guessing Corn or Beans, Betty Milligan, Hanna Fitch; Hitting the Face, J. T. Walker; Prizes, Joe Fuller, Shirley Yates, Bobby Elliott; House of Horror, Jimmy Grimes, Shorty Crain, Guy T. Henderson; Bingo, Joy Kerby, Guilford Thornton, Ann White; Darts, Shorty Crain, Johnny Emerson; Penny Pitching, Arthur Lutman; Fish Pond, Edwina Porter, Wilma Logan, Jane Jordan, Gwen Cherry; Pitching Rings, Kara Mayo, Robby McClain; Lassoing the Scarecrow, Gwen Cherry; Side Show, Miss Cleveland, Gabe Yates; Cake Walk, James Stone; Free Basketball Shots, Jeanette Walker, Mary Helen Bradley, and Jackie Edwards.

VOLETTE POLL

Since the results were practically unanimously in favor of no change in styles and the remarks not printable, it is omitted for lack of space. (The Editors)

TO ALL FACULTY MEMBERS AND STUDENTS

Student assemblies for the remainder of the fall quarter have been scheduled as follows:

Tuesday, November 11, 1:00 p.m.—Open.

Aggies Vote to Fine Violators of Tradition

FACULTY NOT EXEMPT

The Costume: "Hay Pitchers" and "Cow Milkers" overalls, patched trousers, loud shirts.

The Place: Lawn of Ye Ole Colonial Home, U. T. Gym.

The Time: November 22, 1947, 8:00 P.M.

Those enthusiastic "Ag" boys have voted, by an overwhelming majority, to allow no Barnwarmer to enter into this gala affair without a pair of overalls, old pants, loud shirt, gingham dresses, or slacks. In other words, kiddies, you must come dressed to really have a big time or pay that fine of $2, stag or drag.

The "Ag" boys, trained in the art of judging beauty and conformation of live animals, are submitting to you the following nominees for that Barnwarmin' Queen: Sally Campbell, Marguerite Dial, Angelina Fisher, Jean Flanigan, Jane Jordan, Dorothy Knepp, Wilma Logan, Edwina Porter, Grace Stover, and Jean Wilburn.

The "Ag" Club has also nominated the following characters for you to consider in making your choice for Barnwarmin' King: Glynn Carroll, Robert Chapman, Thomas McCutcheon, James Hays, Harold McLeary, Holmes Paschall, James Nichols, Jerry Smith, John Smith, and Windol Wyatt.

When that election day comes along vote for your favorite Miss & Mr. to reign over this occasion.

FROSH PRESIDENT

Neil Smith

Neil Smith was elected president of the Freshman Class at the class election. Mark Fairles was elected vice-president, Betty McNeil, secretary-treasurer and Pat Daws, reporter.

In high school Neil was president and vice-president of Tennessee FFA. He was also placed on All- (Continued on page 4)

The trees have changed their summer dresses for a collection of bright leaves from falls' congenial days; the corn is a rustlin'; the pumpkins are ripe; and 'tis time for U. T. Jr. students to harvest their fun—in short dear chickens, it's Barnwarmin' Time!

Barnwarmin', just in case you haven't heard, is the biggest event of the year! The "Ag" boys are up to their old tricks again with a "Bigger and Better" Barnwarmin' just around the corner.

PLANS ARE BIG

At 8 P. M. this celebration really starts to move—dancing to the music of Jimmy Small and his orchestra on the lawn of that "Ole" Colonial Home in the Gym. Jimmy Small and his boys, as you well know, are packing the Strata Club these Saturday nights with that "swing and sway" music. Just to keep you happy between those dances, you'll see your favorites crowned queen and king, witness the awarding of the Alpha Zeta cup, and drink that cider! Boy, what cider—sweet or hard! The "Ag" boys have really been turning the stuff out!

This Alpha Zeta cup, mentioned above, is going to the sophomore Agricultural student who made the best record during his freshman year. This cup is awarded on the basis of leadership, scholarship, and character.

You students and faculty are in for a treat, and just to make the affair much more interesting, former students and college friends are receiving "corn cob" invitations to attend.

Have you realized that the Barnwarmin' is coming off the same week end as a home football game and the last week end before Thanksgiving holidays? How about buying a ticket in advance, slip on a pair of overalls, grab a "gal in calico" and swing out. Mr. George Waller is the current Barnwarmin' manager. He has an excellent staff and the entire Ag Club to give you folks a swell time so we'll meet you there!

HOW WE COULD IMPROVE OUR CAMPUS

It is felt that the appearance of the University of Tennessee Junior College campus could be improved. Through no fault of the administration of the school, the campus is usually covered with papers and drink bottles. This maltreatment of the campus is brought about by thoughtless students who toss bits of papers and other rubbish down wherever they may be.

The appearance of the campus of a school should be a credit to the school and to the students who are seeking an education there. The University of Tennessee Junior College has one of the most beautiful campuses ever seen, but its beauty is being marred by thoughtless students. A paper-littered campus is like a handsome man clad in a dirty shirt, or a once beautiful woman who now has a scar on her face. The students of the University of Tennessee Junior College should take it upon themselves to correct this mistreatment of the campus and, by working together, make this one of the most beautiful campuses in the South.

MAW POTTS...

Dear Maw,

I just got married a few weeks ago, but already life has its little complications. I work hard all day to support my husband. But does he appreciate it. Hell no, he don't. Why, last week I came in after a hard day at the office, trudged up the steps and there he was sitting on the couch with a blonde on his lap. He yelled, "Hey you, go make me some coffee." The next day it was a brunette and he wanted a sandwich. Today I was tireder than ever and he was making love to a redhead. And he had the nerve to tell me to make some pancakes. Maw, please help me. Send me the recipe for pancakes.

MRS. STONE.

Answer: Maybe the redhead can make pancakes.

MAW

Dear Maw,

Mid-terms have come and gone and finals will be here all too soon. My average is lower than a vet's finances just before payday. How can I pass my finals?

KILROY SCRUGGS

Answer: Well, Son, if you were a girl, the problem would be much easier. But maybe these tips (known as the "Mayo Method") will do the trick.

If the professor is married go to his house the night before exams and hint to his wife that her better half has been stepping out with his secretary. Offer to tell all you know if she'll do likewise. This method can be used both ways. It can also backfire. Use only in case of emergencies.

Better still, take a periscope to the exam with you, and if the person back of you shows any measure of intelligence peer over your shoulder and copy his answers. Periscopes make handy little clubs, too, in case the instructor gets nosey.

But since periscopes are a little hard to find just put the book in your desk and hook up a small electric fan so the breeze will turn the pages. If the desk is under the chair you may need a magnifying glass to decipher the stuff. If you get caught just say that you're studying to be a detective in your spare time. Then start yelling, "Has anybody seen Mumbles?"

If you're farsighted, use a telescope. If you're nearsighted, use a microscope. But do not break the microscope, for if you do, it will cost you $400. It is not because they cost so much, but they are so hard to get.

And there's the two-way radio method. Post your roommate outside the door with your notes in his hand. You can have him play Roy Acuff records during dull moments.

Big feet come in handy here. Write notes on your arch supports and yell, "My feet are killing me." Take your shoes off and copy like mad. This won't appear unusual, as anything may happen during a Botany exam.

If all else fails, get a copy of a last year's test from a sophomore and learn the answers—exactly opposite. You can pass even Chemistry this way.

Luck to you,

MAW.

DEAR MAW,

I just get so many little ole letters from my little ole boy friends and they're so sweet that I just have to answer them. But my poor little ole tongue is so sore from licking stamps. Maw, what can poor little ole me do?

CAMMIE GEORGE

Answer: Don't fret, child; just tie your roommate up and leave her for a few weeks. In dew time her tongue will hang out and you can use it instead. Dogs may be used in case your roommate is bigger than you. If your roommate gets to looking a little green around the gills, free her. Then bring some college boys back and hide them in the closet. Open the door at five-minute intervals and a drip will come out.

Good luck and good licking.

MAW

Behind the Bars

Which is the permanent fixture in the coffee shop—the pinball machine or Joyce Chitwood???

Lucky, lucky girls—Margaret Anne Hudgings and Cammie George, the first young ladies in Reed Hall to become engaged this year.

Scotty, you wouldn't neglect your nightly epistles to Fran to sit in the coffee shop with other handsome men would you???

Is it really true about Preacher and Sue Baldrige?

Did you know Marion R. also had a boy friend from home?

Hope to tell you that Jack Fain gets Jean in on time. They even come in at 10:00 just to be sure.

These dancing classes are producing new romances all over the place. Mary Frances can tell you!!

Burton finally got his tonsils out. He's glad; Janey's glad; all the girls in the dormitory are glad. It was a tough fight but we all pulled through.

Jean Wilburn can always see pink elephants with snow falling on them. That isn't off, we know Jean.

Spanish class is always looked forward to with anticipation by Ben Hatly. Is it because Greer is in the class?

Ruth, who is it Mac or Anthony?

They're around the dining hall—they're around the dorm—they're around the campus—it's not a riddle—just Jackie and Shorty.

Now that Martha is well, she looks back with remorse about the things she said during her delirium—Bill, it wasn't about you.

We hear that Maxie Jenkins is gumming for a room by herself—could it be that Harold is behind all this?

Still rules and regulations—Reed Hall—Card playing—Lou and Jug.

Do people acquire a yearning for new Chevrolet trucks, or is it really the boy, Bobbie?

Frances, stop mourning because Billy wrecked his car. You can park just as well in the living room.

Well, boys, here's your chance—Ida Lou's man has joined the Army Air Forces.

Says Jackie to Peggy in a roommate-like way as Peggy stuck her head in the window from outside at 7:35, "Now Peggy, don't you know I can't let you in every night?"

Becky was talking in her sleep—not moaning and groaning, mind you, but talking; can't tell what she said, though—she's a sophomore and I'm a freshman.

George Rawls has moved—to Reed Hall—since he started going with Evangeline.

"Margie" and "Jack." A tuneful couple.

You can't date a photo. Can you, Joy Harper?

Jessie Sparks had a full weekend with John Yates, Clyde Petty and Dave Walker. . . . Who is your choice, Jessie??? Come on, Geneva, make your choice; is it gona be Ray or Roy??? They're both cute! Betty Mills and Andrew Ezell make a nice couple, don't you agree??? Jo Bennett's special man brought her back to Martin the other weekend. No, we can't blame her for going home often. Gee, just ask anyone who saw Peggy Perry's wonder, Wyman Stallings, who brought her back, if he ain't strictly on the beam. Waltz me around again, says Gwen Cherry. Boy, does she go for those dancing classes?? We know Frances Lyle has a soft heart, but does Curtis Sheron? Come on, Frances, give him a break. Martha Dale still likes the open air, now it's a convertible, but it really wouldn't matter if Warren didn't have a car.

Carolyn Cooley's eyes seem to be all in sparkles lately; . . . is it Billy Maddin or those letters that she receives from T.P.I.? Come on, tell us!

Guess what Percy Young and Betty McNeil found in the front car seat Halloween night when they came out of the show. . . . Yep, it was an old tire. Who would have been so-o mean as to have put it there!?!? Whizzing around at the gym dance Saturday night were Alto Summers and Donald Marsh—tell us more. . . .

College Buildings Present and Future

To accommodate the enlarged enrollment of U. T. Junior College, several new buildings have been added and some old buildings enlarged during the summer.

Probably the first thing that would catch the eye would be the addition to the bookstore. The front porch of the bookstore was enclosed and six hundred new mail boxes were purchased and installed so that each student and faculty member could have individual mail boxes. Last year, sometimes three and four students received their mail in a single box. These new boxes have been placed on the outside of the bookstore property which allows students access to their mail at times when the bookstore is closed. Besides improving the mail situation, an office was made in the bookstore for Mr. Duncan who is Student Welfare Chairman, handling problems of student employment, room reservations and dormitory matters in addition to overseeing the bookstore and Post Office operation.

The men's dormitory is now in successful operation, providing living quarters for 128 single veterans. It affords single rooms which gives the veterans privacy which they did not enjoy in the service. The rooms are well ventilated and heated and are furnished with a closet, desk, chair, chest and bed.

Another addition is the enlargement of the dining hall. This addition made possible the change from family style of serving meals to cafeteria style. This has diminished the "chow lines" to a certain extent.

A short distance across the campus from the dining hall, is the new agriculture building. This building provides thirteen classrooms and a number of offices to alleviate the crowded class and office space situation. Equipment has been purchased, or donated by federal agencies, for laboratory work in physics, zoology, botany, horticulture, dairying, animal husbandry, and other agriculture courses. This will provide teaching facilities for these agriculture and science classes until completion of the new $400,000 agriculture building, funds for which were provided by the 1947 Legislature.

The building formerly known as Temporary Hall No. 2 has been remodeled into apartments which will aid in relieving the housing situation. Mr. Lusk, instructor in dairying, has moved into one of the apartments already.

These new additions brought about a heating problem. To solve this problem, an addition to the heating plant is now being completed. Upon completion, besides solving the heating problem, this building will house plumbing and carpenter shops, also office for the Superintendent of Buildings. This is a permanent brick construction. Mr. Earl Knepp is the college engineer who supervises the construction, and Mr. N. B. Williams is the contractor.

Mr. McMahan, Mr. Duncan, Mr. Knepp, Mr. Stanford and Mr. Meek make up the faculty buildings and grounds committee and are charged with the responsibility of planning these and all other new constructions.

Homecoming

Jr. Vols Whip Lambuth

After a parade featuring 21 beautifully decorated cars, which created much enthusiasm, a large crowd saw the Jr. Vols soundly trounce the Lambuth Eagles, for their third victory of the season against one setback.

On a rain-soaked field under heavy dark clouds, the Eagles received the opening kick-off on their own ten and carried to the 16. On the first play Holland picked up one through the center. On the next play the Eagles carried for a first down but were penalized five yards for backfield in motion and punted to the Jr. Vols' 40. On the first play from scrimmage, Hunt picked up four yards around right end. On the next play Hunt picked up seven and a first down, and the march had begun which was to end in victory for the Jr. Vols. On the first play, U. T. was offside and it was first and fifteen. Then Hayes picked up two through the center of the line. Hunt attempted to pass to King which was incomplete. Devasher picked up four and then U. T. punted.

Lambuth was thrown for a five-yard loss on the first play. On the next play the Eagles picked up two. The Eagles, on a fake punt, picked up five yards and then punted to the Jr. Vols' 13. From there U.T. punts to the Lambuth where it is taken by May and run back to the 15. In two plays the Eagles have a first down on the Jr. Vols' five and there the Jr. Vols showed us as great a goal line stand as we have ever seen. In four plays the Eagles had lost exactly 20 yards and the Jr. Vols took over on their own 25.

Up to this point the Jr. Vols' defense had been great but their offense hadn't seemed to click, but here U. T. covered a fumble and this seemed to put something into their offense. On the first play Black lost a half yard. Then a pass from Hunt to Waddy was incomplete, but on the next play, a pass from Hunt to King was good for 11, making it a first down. From this point U. T. was penalized fifteen yards for unnecessary roughness but on the next play an incomplete pass which netted fifteen yards was ruled complete because of interference, giving the Jr. Vols another first down. Then U. T. picked up three, and on the next play Hunt picked up eight for a first down. On the next play Fussel picked up Eleven for another first down and then Hunt went around right end for four. From this point Hunt crashed to the one, but U. T. was offside. Fussel picked up one and then Hunt picked up twelve. A pass to Waddy in the end-zone was incomplete and the Eagles took over.

On the first play the Eagles picked up three, but on the second play they were stopped at scrimmage and punted to their own 40 where it was run back to the 30. A pass to Waddy and a lateral to Pate was good for a first down. Here U. T. was held for down and it looked as though they just didn't have the scoring punch, but on the next play the Eagles lined up in punt formation and big powerful Jerry Smith charged through and blocked the punt which bounded into the end-zone and out of bounds, giving the Jr. Vols a safety and two points.

After the safety, the Eagles kicked off from their 20 and it was run back to their 47. A pass from Hunt to Waddy was good for a first down. A pass from Pate to King was incomplete and it looked as though the Jr. Vols still lacked that scoring punch when Hunt lost a yard on the next play, but the people who believed this were in for a big surprise, because on the next play, Hunt threw a long pass which King, making a beautiful catch, took on the 20 and scampered across for a touchdown. De-

Player of The Week

LAMBUTH GAME

"Cotton" King has been proclaimed the player of the week due to his brilliant and outstanding play in the Lambuth game. His defensive play was excellent, and he was uncanny on offense, making some of the best catches we have seen all season. He was the fifth man in Lambuth's backfield all night, and he scored one touchdown and set up another. The Sports Department of The Volette salutes you, "Cotton" King.

vasher passed to Pate for the extra point just as the first half ended.

Starting the second half, the Eagles kicked off to the Jr. Vols ten where it was taken by Pate and returned to the 36. On the first play from scrimmage Hunt picked up one and then Pate picked up one. A pass from Hunt to Waddy was good for a first down and it looked as though the Jr. Vols would go all the way. Hunt picked up three yards on the first play and then one yard on the second. A pass from Hunt intended for Waddy was incomplete, and U. T. Punted out on the Eagles' 20. The Eagles were stopped at scrimmage on the first play but picked up five yards on the next play. The Eagles picked up two yards on a play from punt formation and then punted and Pate returned 15 yards.

U. T. unable to gain at this point punted to Lambuth, and after a series of plays Lambuth punted back to them. Lambuth still could not gain and punted again but this time it was to be a different story. A pass from Hunt to King was good for 40 yards. Hunt picked up five yards, and on the next play picked up four more. Then on the next play Hunt made it first and ten. U. T. was penalized five yards for off-sides but a pass from Hunt to Waddy was good for a first. Hunt picked up four yards on a fake pass play around right end, then he passed to King for a first down on the one and Pate carried over on a quarterback sneak. Devasher kicked for the extra point—it was good, and the Jr. Vols led 16-0. This was all of the scoring, but when the game ended the Jr. Vols were deep in scoring territory again.

The Jr. Vols defense looked exceptionally well, and their passing attack was very good. All the boys played heads-up football, and the Jr. Vols as a whole simply outclassed the Eagles in every form or fashion.

SCA Plans Assembly

The Student Christian Association has held two regular meetings. There has been a noted increase in attendance. Committees appointed by the president include: Program, Woody King, Andy Hampton, Connie Bass, Neil Smith; Social, Frank Coppage, Wilora Nowell, Jo Ann Neely; Publicity, Betty Mills and Wilma Logan.

At the meeting Tuesday night, November 4, the members elected Jo Bennett as their candidate for queen of the Harvest Carnival. They also voted to buy membership cards and to select a permanent meeting place.

The SCA has charge of the assembly November 25. Plans for a Thanksgiving program are being made.

Intramural Soccer Games Get Underway

Intramurals began November 5 with the girls' yellow and brown teams playing to a scoreless tie in a game of soccer.

These intramurals will be carried on throughout the remainder of the school year. There will be some sort of sports held that everyone can take part in and will be expected to do so. It is your duty to yourself and to your team to enter into anything you are qualified for and give your full support by so doing.

A temporary captain or co-captains have been appointed for each team until a permanent captain can be elected. These captains will be in charge and will act more or less as a coach.

Let's all work together and make these intramurals worth holding and may the best teams win.

Nice Trip, But We Lost

On Thursday, October 30, the Junior Vols boarded a Dunlap Bus and rode over 500 miles to defeat, but their trip was not in vain. The football boys boast of one of the best times they have ever had.

The team left Martin early Thursday morning and rode to Clarksdale, Miss., where they had lunch. From there they drove on to Monroe, La., where they spent the night in the Virginia Hotel.

Their trip back was just as enjoyable. All of the boys still boast of the splendid dinner they enjoyed in Memphis.

Intercepted passes were the greatest causes of the Junior Vols' defeat. Northeast Junior College was unable to gain much territory through the Junior Vols' line.

Player of The Week

LOUISIANA GAME

Due to the fact that the Volette was not represented at the L.S.U. Jr. College game, we have picked the player of the week by what the players themselves have had to say about the game. After much conversing and conferring, we have emerged with Jerry Smith as the player of the week. Smith is a tackle, as all of you probably know. He was selected player of the week because of his hard charging, bone crushing tackles, and deadly blocking. Smith has started every game for the Jr. Vols and played the major part of everyone. Since Smith is only a freshman, we are looking forward to many more of his good games. We are for you, Jerry Smith.

A TRIBUTE TO THE FOOTBALL BOYS

By Russell McCaslin

Recently I have read several articles in the Memphis newspapers discussing whether football added to a school either socially or scholastically. I am no judge of this, but there can be no argument that it does not add to any school spiritually.

The only way you can realize the value of football is to attend a school where it is not played and then transfer to a school where it is. Once you realize the value you must and will appreciate the game and the players. But here at the University of Tennessee Junior College we have a very special reason to respect our boys. None of the players here have scholarships. They receive no money, no extra food at the dining hall; yet they batter their brains out day in and day out. After a long, hard practice they limp or dash cheerfully, all depending on whether they were lucky or unlucky that day, to the dining hall and enjoy the food that you and I gripe about. From there it is home and to bed to nurse a charley horse or a torn ligament. Too tired to study or too bruised and battered, they are soon asleep and could you blame them? Yet, they receive no assistance with their studies.

Why is it that these boys, who are certainly not boys but men, indulge in such a game? It is for the love of sport and glory that they bring their full faith in American fairness, and trot out upon the field. Now that we know why they play, how can we pay them? We can give them this glory that they so greatly deserve. We can pat them on the back and tell them when we are proud of them.

Fellow students don't misunderstand me. Our boys do not have to win before we are proud of them. This is only a two-year college and most of our opponents are from four-year colleges.

I have seen them beaten but I have never seen them give up. If I may change a little of Cooke's work, I will say:

"The harder they fall the higher they bounce.

They are proud of their blackened eye.

It isn't the fact they're licked that counts,

But how did they fight and why?"

I never saw them when I could not be proud of the way they fought.

Former Student Speaks Here

Miss Dorothy Hall, Assistant Home Demonstration Agent from Weakley County, was the guest speaker at the last Home Economics Meeting. Dorothy outlined her work, which is with the 4-H Clubs and answered questions concerning Home Demonstration. Afterwards Grace Stover led group singing, accompanied by Virginia Cude.

Janie Porter was elected as candidate for the Harvest Carnival.
